

The graph displays five time series (blue, green, purple, orange, red) over 100 time steps. The blue series exhibits the highest volatility, with a significant peak around time step 10 and a sharp drop around time step 40. The green, purple, and orange series show moderate volatility, while the red series is the most stable. All series converge to a value of 1.0 by the end of the time series.

— C